Maxwell named Executive Assistant of Department of Financial Institutions

MADISON – Georgia Maxwell has been named Executive Assistant of the Wisconsin Department of Financial Institutions (DFI).

“Georgia is an outstanding addition to the DFI team,” Secretary Peter Bildsten said. “Her legislative and private-sector experiences will be great assets for the Department as it strives to fulfill its mission of keeping Wisconsin’s financial institutions safe and sound.”

Maxwell has a wide range of experience in the private and public sectors, including five years as Director of Government Affairs for the Credit Union League of Wisconsin and more than a decade as a legislative staff member which included serving as Chief of Staff for then-Rep. Luther Olsen. Maxwell most recently served as Executive Assistant of the Wisconsin Department of Workforce Development.

As Executive Assistant, Maxwell will work with the state Legislature, Congress, business leaders and stakeholder groups to advance policies that fulfill DFI’s mission. She succeeds Lucas Vebber, who left the agency to join the staff of state Sen. Scott Fitzgerald.
