Article 1. Identify the entity that is transferring one or more classes or series of ownership interests to the acquiring entity in the transaction. Provide the name, entity type, and governing law (either a U.S. state or a foreign country) of the acquired entity as it exists immediately prior to the transaction.

Article 2. Identify the entity that is acquiring one or more classes or series of ownership interests from the acquired entity. Provide the name, entity type, and governing law (either a U.S. state or a foreign country) of the acquiring entity.

Article 3. Wisconsin law requires the acquiring entity to affirm that the plan of interest exchange was approved and adopted by the acquired and acquiring entities in accordance with their respective governing laws, that the plan is on file at the principal office of the acquiring entity, and that the plan will be provided upon request to any interest holder of the acquired entity. Note: the parties to the interest exchange are not required to file the plan of interest exchange with the Department.

Article 4. Select one of the two statements, whichever is applicable. If the organizational documents of either the acquired or acquiring entity are being amended in connection with this interest exchange, check the first box and attach a copy of the amendments to the organizational documents. If the acquired and acquiring entities' organizational documents are not being amended as part of the interest exchange, mark the second box.

Optional additional provisions. The acquiring entity may—but is not required to—include additional provisions relating to the interest exchange in these articles. Attach any optional additional provisions on additional pages as needed.

Execution. The acquiring entity must sign this document. The signature requirements for the acquiring entity depend on the entity type:

Business Corporations: This document must be executed by an officer of the corporation, subject to two limited exceptions: (1) if directors have not been selected, it may be signed by an incorporator identified in the initial articles of incorporation; and (2) if the corporation is in the hands of a receiver, trustee or other court-appointed fiduciary, it may be signed by the fiduciary. Corporate directors are not authorized to sign this document in their capacities as directors. (A corporate director who also serves as an officer may sign the document, but that person must sign in their capacity as an officer of the corporation.)

Limited partnerships and limited liability limited partnerships: This document must be executed by a general partner.

All other entity types: This document must be signed by a person authorized by the entity.

Drafter name. If the document is executed in Wisconsin, section 182.01(3) of the Wisconsin Statutes requires that it include the name of the drafter. If the document is not executed in Wisconsin, so indicate in the space provided for the drafter's name.

Optional delayed effective date/time. This document may declare a delayed effective date and time. The effective date/time may not be before, or more than 90 days after, the document is received by the Department of Financial Institutions for filing. If no effective date/time is specified, the document will take effect at the close of business on the date it is received for filing by the Department.

Filing fee. The filing fee varies depending on whether the acquiring entity is a business corporation:

If the acquiring entity is a business corporation, the filing fee is $100.

If the acquiring entity is any other entity type, the filing fee is $150.
